

Quick Guide to APA citation Style

ONE AUTHOR OR EDITOR

Highmore, B. (2001).

Smith, S.Z. (Ed.). (2006).

MULTIPLE AUTHORS OR EDITORS

DuNann, D. W., & Koger, S. M. (2004).

Sloan, F. A., Stout, E. M., Whetten-Goldstein, K., & Liang, L. (2000).

Bronfen, E., & Kavka, M. (Eds.). (2001)

BOOKS

Highmore, B. (2001). Italian-Americans in the United States. New York: Routledge.

ENTRY IN A REFERENCE BOOK

Bennigsen, A. (1980). Azerbaijanis. In S. Thernstrom (Ed.), Harvard encyclopedia of American ethnic groups (p. 171). Cambridge: Harvard University Press.

ENTRY IN AN ONLINE REFERENCE WORK

Kamp, J. (2000). "Jewish Americans." In Lehman (Ed.), Gale encyclopedia of multicultural America (pp. 1030-1051). Detroit: Gale. Retrieved from Gale Virtual Reference Library database.

JOURNAL OR MAGAZINE ARTICLES FROM LIBRARY DATABASES

In this example the journal article has a DOI (Digital Object Identifier)

Pascali, L. (2006). Two stoves, two refrigerators, due cucine: the Italian immigrant home with two kitchens. Gender, Place & Culture: A Journal of Feminist Geography, 13(6), 685-695. doi:10.1080/09663690601019935.

If the article does NOT have a DOI, the database is named in the citation.

Migliazzo, A. (2008). Una storia segreta: the secret history of Italian American evacuation and imprisonment during World War II. Journal of the West, 47(2), 82. Retrieved from Academic Search Complete database.

NEWSPAPER ARTICLES FROM LIBRARY DATABASES

Gorce, T. (2008, January 20). Tony Soprano? No, Here's the Real Italy. New York Times, p. 11. Retrieved from Academic Search Complete database.

For more information consult the following:

- Diana Hacker website http://www.dianahacker.com/resdoc/p04_c09_o.html
- Little-Brown Handbook (ON RESERVE)
- Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association (ON RESERVE)

B. Greil
Hinkle Library
Alfred State College
Ethnic History APA 2-10

